HOW THE TOUR WORKS

Think of the ABATE of Indiana's "Tour Indiana" program as a statewide scavenger hunt designed to encourage people to get out and ride. If that wasn't incentive enough, you can also win cash prizes! How, you ask?

Points of Interest Participants may visit the points of interest listed in this passport. Participants may ride the North Tour (Regions 0, 1, 2, 3, 4), Central Tour (Regions 5, 6, 11, 12) or South Tour (Regions 7, 8, 9, 10, 13) separately, any combination of two, or all three. A Point of Interest is listed in each Region (two in Region 11). There are five points of interest in each of the North, Central and South Tours (15 total). Participants simply take a picture of their motorcycle and themselves in front of the point of interest, while displaying the cover of the tour book. Couples (riding the same motorcycle) can take a picture of each other with their motorcycle, while displaying the cover page of the tour book. Participants will qualify for 2 chances per picture to win cash prizes for each of these tours they complete.

ABCs of Indiana Participants must take a picture of their motorcycle and themselves in front of the name of a city, town or county sign using the alphabet A through Z (there is no X), while displaying the cover of the tour book. Couples (riding the same motorcycle) can take a picture of each other with their motorcycle, while displaying the cover of the tour book. A picture of five of the State Parks and/or State/National Forests is also needed. Participants will receive two chances for each letter of the alphabet, State/National Park or State/National Forest submitted. There are a total of 60 chances available for this tour.

Sponsor Tour Visit a sponsor listed on the inside back cover. Participants must take a picture of their motorcycle and themselves in front of the business signage while displaying the cover of the tour book (15 total). Participants will qualify for 2 chances per picture to win cash prizes for this tour. Only one sponsor can be submitted under the same name (i.e. "Pomp's Tire" can only be submitted one time, even though they are listed multiple times). There are currently 31 Sponsors available to choose from for this tour.

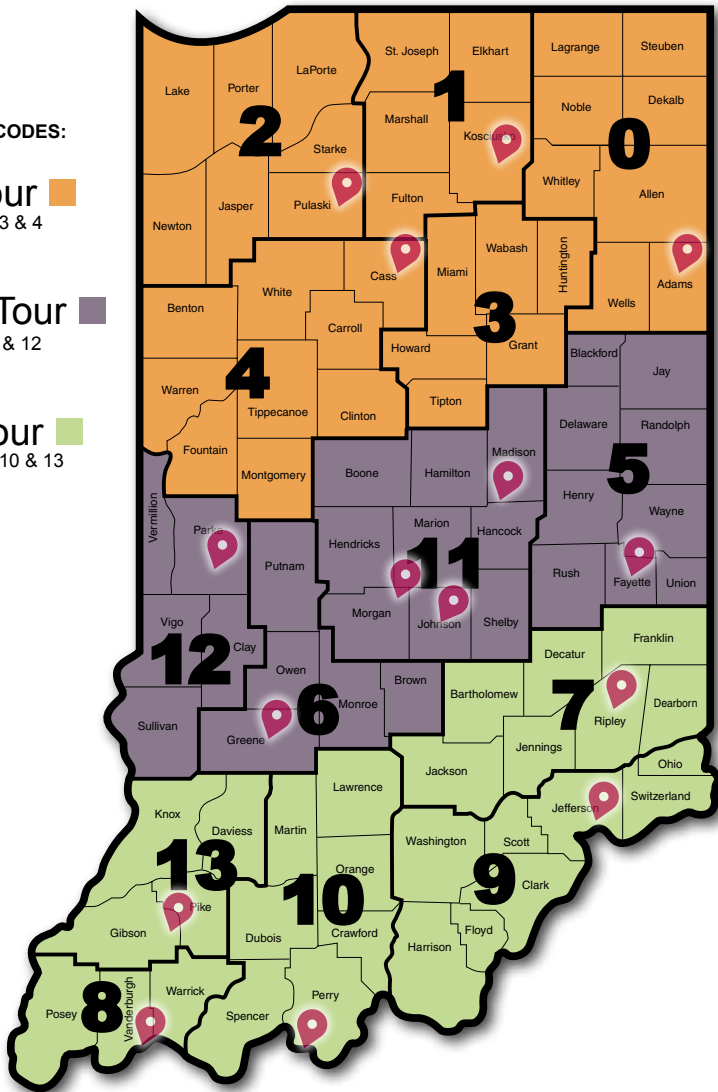

Bonus Complete all 5 Tours (3-Points of Interest, ABC tour, and Sponsor Tour) and receive an additional 15 chances to be evenly distributed among the five tours!

Winamac, IN 46996

The dealership was built in 1960 by Jim & Nella Kersting and served as their business and home for several years. Over time they added to the original structure to accommodate Jim's vintage motor cycle collection of more than 100 bikes. Manufacturers from Ariel to Zundapp, you could say he has the whole alphabet of bikes. And like Wheels Through Time in Maggie Valley, they all run. Admission to the museum is just a $5.00 donation and well worth it if you love old and unusual bikes.

Weaver Settlement Historic Marker

N 40° 27.957 W 85° 43.240

2600 W 600 S, Marion, IN 46953

In 1840, five free Black families moved from North Carolina to Grant County, Indiana, and created the Weaver Settlement, clearing more than 3,000 acres of land. By 1849, Weaver had its first church, and five years later the Baptists built a church that is still standing on the site today. During the Civil War, freed and escaped slaves came to Weaver. After the war, the community grew; businesses and formal schools were built and during its peak, more than 2,000 lived in the community making it one of the earliest and biggest congregations of Black pioneers in Indiana. Racial tensions heightened in 1930 after the lynching of two African American men in Grant County. This was the last known lynching in the state. Over the years, the population of Weaver slowly dwindled, and the building eventually fell down. The remnants of Weaver still remains, protected by a fence that surrounds the majority of the property. The site is now home to playgrounds, huts, and a large grass lawn.

Mr. Happy Burger was established in the late 1970's by Bobby Shanks and used this 12' tall fiberglass bull to draw attention to the business. The Tulip Trestle

0.3 mi of CR 390 N on CR 480 E
Bloomfield, IN 47424

Also known as the Green County Viaduct, the trestle was begun in 1905 and took a year to complete. It is the longest rail trestle in the United States at 2,295 feet long and the third longest bridge of its kind in the world. The original cost of the viaduct was $246,5041 which is estimated to be over $8 million in today's dollars. The structure was designed by the Indianapolis Southern Railway, financed by the Illinois Central Railroad and mostly by Italian immigrants. Used primarily the transportation of coal from Greene County mines to large cities such as Chicago, the line was also used for passenger trains, but the service was discontinued in 1948. The rail line is still used today for freight transportation.

Osgood, IN 47037

The sculpture is one of many located around the Osgood Grub Co. at the corner of Beech Street and Buckeye Street in Osgood, Indiana. They were sculpted by Dale Loughery who is from Australia. He was friends of the owners of the Osgood Grub Company which is located in a former dairy company building and has been family-owned restaurant and bar since 1977. Speaking with first-hand knowledge, the food there is great. If you have a group ride doing tour stops then plan on making it a lunch stop. But give them a call so they have space saved for your group. They are very accommodating and full of local history.

Lanier Mansion State Historic Site
N 38° 44.111 W 85° 23.184
501 W Vaughn Dr
Madison, IN 47250

James Franklin Doughty Lanier was one of Madison's pioneers. His activities in banking and railroad development made him one of the most important figures in Indiana's history. Lanier moved to Madison in 1817 where he practiced law and served as clerk of the Indiana General Assembly in the 1820s. By 1834, he'd become president of the Madison Branch of the State Bank of Indiana and was a major investor in Indiana's first railroad. Lanier's business success allowed him to hire Madison architect Francis Costigan to design and build the grandest residence in Madison, which was completed in 1844. Francis Costigan designed the mansion with many Greek Revival features. A few of these include the square plan, the full façade porch on the south elevation, the massive exterior entablature and dentilated cornice, and the Ionic columns that separate the double parlors on the first floor

Ritz Theater

N 39° 45.755 W 87° 13.798

201 W Ohio St., Rockville, Indiana 47872

Opened in 1912 as the 600-plus seat New Rockville Opera House on W. Ohio Street (later the “New” portion of the name was dropped). For its first 15 or so years, the Opera House presented mostly live acts, but also did feature some silent film screenings as well. It wasn’t until 1929, when the Opera House was wired for sound that it switched to mainly movies.

The theater was heavily remodeled in 1937, when its name was changed to the Ritz Theater, and its interior was redone in Art Moderne style, the original Neo-Classical decor all but lost. Also, a new marquee was added at this time, which was itself replaced again in the late-1940’s with the current semi-circular shaped Streamline style marquee. It was operated by Affiliated Theaters Inc. of Indianapolis, IN.

The Ritz Theater closed as a movie house in 1969, but was purchased from its last owner by the Rockville Chamber of Commerce. It has been the home of the Parke Players since 1971, and since that time, has been constantly under renovation and restoration. The Players continue to present live theater on the Ritz’ stage today. In 2012 it was equipped with a digital projector and now screens first-run movies.

The home was built by William in 1876, and is a two-story, Italian Villa style brick dwelling with a one-story wing. It features a three-story square corner tower set at a 45 degree angle, round and segmental arched windows, and bracketed cornice. His home, located on the Oakland City University campus, was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1978. With restoration completed in 2002, Cockrum Hall now houses the Offices of Development and Alumni Affairs for Oakland City University.
